▲ Update your scheme with dramatic black on brilliant white. Concept ceramic wall tiles, 15.2x15.2cm, from £46.48 per m², Original Style

▲ This design features the look of a heavily embroidered tapestry. Chambray Brocade ceramic wall tiles in red, 25x40cm, from £24 per m², British Ceramic Tile

Latest pattern choices

Patterned tiles remain a popular choice and there are many contemporary and traditional designs available. Graphic combinations of black and white in floral and natural motifs are a stunning option, and will complement kitchen or bathroom units well. For a more intricate look, choose tiles that replicate the patterns you would expect to find on fabric, adding a whole new dimension to your room's scheme. These designs will soften the overall effect that a tiled surface can have.

Textured finishes

Textured tiles will bring a stylish finish to almost any room scheme. Choose from understated designs in a soft colour, or heat up the room with a combination of texture and bold colour or high-gloss tiles.

Alternatively, go for the more graphic effect of straight lines and geometric shapes, which will be the perfect complement to a contemporary interior design scheme. These will work really well in a modern kitchen and can be extended through to an adjoining dining area for a cohesive style.

DESIGN IDEA

Large-format tiles are still a big trend and draw the eye to the tile, not the grout. Use the same design on walls and floors for a seamless finish – but check your choice is suitable for both. Defining different areas with your choice of tile sizes works really well; and mix gloss and matt finishes for added sophistication

▲ Add a burst of brilliance to a bathroom wall. Metro ceramic wall tiles in Inca Gold, 15.2x7.6cm, £0.74 each, H&E Smith

▲ These tiles have different depths and so create a fantastic look on a feature wall. Inalco 80.4 porcelain wall tiles, 80x80cm, £154.04 per m², SurfaceTiles

► Create a real show-stopping effect with these curvaceous tiles in hot colours. Heatwave ceramic wall tiles in Rosso, 15x56cm, £385 per m², The Stone & Ceramic Warehouse
